My creative background

Somewhere about six years ago I bought a camera to fill my dream of becoming a photographer.

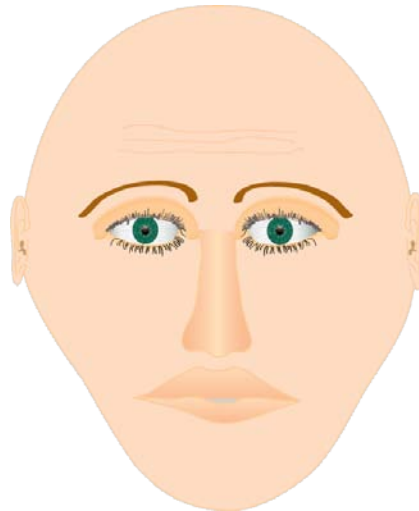

Some people say that I am gifted with a camera
In my hands.

Then in an effort to learn more about Photoshop I started doing Art. To the right is one of my earliest pieces. (abstract 18-1008)

This piece, (abstract 69-2008) is one of my favorites. The idea was to learn about texture, coloring and layering.

This image is my first 3D face.

Cayenne Photos and Art!

Not so long ago I decided that art was more attractive for me. Art also runs in the family.

I love to take photos of flowers. Here I posterized this flower. In doing so it made the image more impactful.

Tasha is one of the many faces I am starting to draw. I so look forward to learning more how to move myself forward in my art.
